It is a new approach to increase the intellectual and strategic capacity of the workers' organizations and to establish stronger working relationships among the Trade Unions, the ILO and the community. We are extremely fortunate that The host cum organizer i.e. JNU has been kind enough to allot 30 seats to our confederation so that we could attend the conference and enrich our knowledge and understanding on the subject.

The conference kick-started with the opening session on 4th Oct'2017 at the JNU Convention Centre, New Delhi. Dignitaries from all across the Globe participated in the programme to make it a mega event. Prof. Archana Prasad of JNU addressed the gathering with her welcome speech to mark the beginning of the event which was followed by a keynote address by Prof. Prabhat Patnaik of JNU. The house was also addressed by Michelle Williams, the interim President of GLU and other dignitaries. The conference consisted of different panel discussions on various topics ranging from building movements against neoliberalism, global supply chains, changing technology and the world of work, socially and economically just alternatives, strategies against neoliberalism, etc. A good number of research papers have also been presented by different research Scholars and Professors from different parts of the Globe. The highlight of the conference in our context was a session exclusively based on "Save Public Sector." The said
